COUNCIL MAKES PLEDGE

Will Revoke Saloon License of Every Man Caught
Selling on Sunday.

The City Council met Friday night with the Mayor presiding and all of the Councilmen, excepting Dr. Jackson, present.

The first question taken up was the matter of violations of the Sunday liquor law. The Mayor recommended the revocation of the saloon license of Ed Summers, who was fined Dec. 11, for a violation the day before by his bartender. After discussion, it was agreed, (each Councilman pledging himself to make no exceptions) to revoke the license of each and every saloon keeper, who is hereafter convicted of selling on Sunday. The City Attorney was also directed to prepare an ordinance by next Thursday night, making it unlawful for any person to go into a saloon on Sunday for any purpose. The Mayor also asked that no license be issued next year to restaurants located in saloons, or in rooms opening into saloons, except on condition that they close on Sundays. The Council passed a motion directing the Treasurer to require the public hall license of $25 to be paid by the Lyceum Association giving a season of entertainments in the Union Tabernacle not of a religious character. The ordinance was passed last summer and the Council merely construed it to apply to the Tabernacle. The preparation of an ordinance relating to the removal of unsafe buildings was also ordered. Chairman Clark, of the Building Committee, submitted a report for the year 1906, showing that he had issued 65 permits, aggregating $166,420. This record has been systematically kept this year for the first time in years and the result shows by actual figures the growth of Hopkinsville.

The license on stock dealers was increased from $50 to $500 for 1907. The Council adjourned to meet again Thursday night, Dec. 27th.

LOST OVERCOAT

Recovered by Police Last Saturday.

Vitus Gates came near losing his $25 overcoat last Saturday. When he went to dinner at the Hill House he put the coat where he thought it would remain until after dinner. But not so. When he came out of the dining room it was gone. He notified the police and officer Claxton found it at Frankel's, where it had been left to be called for. The man from the country was not arrested.

WATER STRAIGHT

Substituted for a Jug of Whisky.

A country man came to town Saturday and in the afternoon bought a jug of whisky with which to jolly during Christmas. He left his jug of fire-water at a grocery, and when he started to go home found that somebody had traded him a jug of water for his jug of red-eye. The man who made the swap is not known.

Death Near Larkin.

Mr. Lawson Canaler, aged about forty years, died last Friday at his home near Larkin. Death was due to consumption. His widow and two children survive.

THE ELKS' NEW QUARTERS.

First Regular Meeting to Be Held in the New Home
To-Night.

BRIGHT AS A NEW PIN.

Charity Wagons Were Out
Early Yesterday Morning.

The new quarters of the B.P.O.E. will be formally opened tonight, which is the regular meeting night of the order. It is the intention to open with a grand banquet, if everything can be arranged.

The Elks bought the Flack property several months ago, as they wanted a permanent home for their order. The quarters are on the 2nd floor and are perfectly adapted to the size of the antlered brotherhood. A great deal of money has been spent to make the new home what it is, one of the handiest in the State, and the members have all been interested in preparing a meeting place as well as a nook, where they can resort at any hour during the day when worn out from contact with the world, as well as work out bothersome problems in business. They have freely given of their means for the many changes that were necessary to convert the second story of their property into an Elks home and are justly proud of it.

You cannot form a correct idea of how fresh and bright everything looks without going through the buildings. The lodge room takes up the entire front space over the two store rooms with the exception of the stairway. It is beautifully papered, brilliantly lighted and has everything that tends to make it attractive and convenient. In this room is a pianola and two billiard tables, couches, etc. The large dining room is in the rear, as is the cooking department, cloak rooms, etc. Telephones are conveniently located, and the visitor, on entering, is impressed with the general air of cheer and comfort of the entire arrangement.

The order has been, if possible, more liberal in its donations for charity this Christmas than ever before. By tireless efforts the committee appointed for the purpose several days in advance secured the names and residences of all the deserving poor in the city. It has heretofore been the custom to send out wagons loaded with needed articles to the poor on Christmas day, but this time they thought it best to anticipate somewhat. So yesterday morning early the wagons were loaded with the articles that had been stored below for several days and they made the rounds of the city. The object of this was to let the beneficiaries know what they were to get in time to keep them from spending what little money they had to invest in Christmas goods so as not to duplicate what had been given by the Elks. We do not know how many homes were made happy by the visits of the Elks' wagons, but no one was omitted whose names they had been able to secure.

The order throughout this country is conspicuous for charity. They always give to the poor, no matter what their creed, expecting no recompense for their kindness, and the name of Elk has become a synonym for everything that is liberal and kind-hearted.

NIGHTS OF UNREST.

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace for the from Kidney Troubles

No peace for the kidney sufferer—Pain and distress from "morn to night."

"Get up with a lame back, twinges of backache bother you all day."

Dull aching breaks your rest at night.

Urinary disorders adds to your misery.

Get at the cause—cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will work the cure.

They're for the kidneys only—Have made great cures in Hopkinsville.

Win. C. Davis, cooper, of No. 603 North Main street, says: "A dull bearing down across my kidneys and through the small of my back made it so painful for me to stoop or lift anything that I was unable to do any work or to have any pleasure."

Whenever I took cold it settled in my back and at night bothered me a great deal while lying in bed."

Sharp twinges often kept me awake for hours and in the morning I arose feeling tired and devoid of all energy and ambition. The condition of the kidneys was especially annoying and distressing at night. I doctored and used many remedies until I became discouraged, for instead of getting better I seemed to grow worse. Finally I happened to read an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills, and as they were highly recommended by people nearby, I could not help but believe that they were a good remedy. I got a box and after using them a few days I could see a decided improvement. I kept on with the treatment and the pains in my back left me entirely and the action of the kidneys was restored to a normal and healthy condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBum Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

Rags and Old Iron. The treat of true love stories comes from the pen of a Kansas City poet. His wife listens to his poetry and he eats her warm biscuits—and both say they are "delighted!" Such devotion is heavenly!

Miss Bertha Krupp, the richest girl in Germany, is spending only $500 on her trousseau. That is $242 more than Russell Sage spent for a suit of clothes. Germany will have to "go some" to equal the simplicity of the United States.

Jack Frost has won the pennant from Hay Fever.

At this writing there is a suggestion in the air that, if acted upon, will disturb the moth-balls resting cozily in the wooden underwear in the bottom drawer of the dresser and turn this erstwhile care-free people into a scratch-as-scratch-can-democracy. Whether to put 'em on or wait awhile—Ay! there is the rub!

Milwaukee is a great ship-building city. Thousands of "schooners" are annually pushed over the bar in that city.

The lid is on so tight in a Kansas town that you can't play a game of partners on a croquet ground without being arrested for gambling.

A Mississippi man who has 23 children has skipped! He undoubtedly thought his wife meant it to be personal when she delivered him the synonym for "skipped."

Now that we have reformed spelling, let us have reformed grammar, that even the uneducated may enter literature as a business. The water is warm, come on in!

A Detroit restaurant keeper advertises for "a vegetable woman." I know where there is one with carrot-colored hair. Will she do?

From a Minnesota paper we learn that "Frank B. thinks Doc. stands in."

Over in Kalamazoo, Mich., according to the "Glints" man, the popular song is "Her Mother Hid Her New Red Hat and Sent the Child to Bed."

Somehow this song reminds me of my youth when mother patched my pan—er, I mean trousers.

Did you ever go to bed while your mother sewed placards on the basement of your bifurcated tops?

That is, I mean if you are a man!

I lost a lot of time that way when I was a boy. Now I wish I had had one pair. I would get some sleep then.

It's funny about that, isn't it? When you are poor and out on the west, you go to bed early and get plenty of nice, satisfying, soul-resting sleep. Morpheus and you are on the chummiest of terms. You are so fond of him it takes me and pa and Kate and the hired man to separate you from his embrace of a morning, and then—

When you get older and have three pairs of pants—er, I mean trousers, with a pair of suspenders for each pair of pants, Morpheus takes a great dislike to you—probably because you have grown aristocratic—and absolutely refuses to slide down your collar door!

Whenever you try to woo him, he turns a cold, palpitating heart toward your amorous wooing and hurries off to bury his grandmother without as much as saying, "Excuse me, please, I'm going to the ball game."

For my part I don't see what good three pairs of pants—er, I mean trousers, are when you can't sleep nights, nor nothing.

I'd like to see out at the next night myself!

JAPANESE ART. IMPROVING ON NATURE.

THE Japanese are wonderful people. Their arts and crafts have long been the admiration of the world. Not only do they produce the most exquisite creations in metal and porcelain, but they even take living animals and plants and by sheer persistence cause them to alter their natural shape and growth. They have produced a race of goldfish with two tails and tiny apple trees only a few inches high and yet bearing fruit as often as in their native land. An effort to paint the petals of the lily could fragrance the rose can only result in disappointment. As fables are the attempts so often made to imitate the glow of health on the human skin, by the use of paints and cosmetics. The color of the complexion is due to a pigment on the inside of the skin and its glow and bloom are due to the pure red blood which fills its vessels. Any attempt to imitate this color by application on the outside simply gives a dull lead surface, and the continued use of drugs causes a thickening and hardening of the outer layer which may become permanent, causing the complexion to assume that "sallow" look which is so disagreeable. Nature never intended that women should suffer from physical disabilities at certain periods, and too often women feel that the great distress they suffer at these periods is only natural. The fact is the women who live in the open and do physical labor are little troubled by the pains and ills that our delicate, house-borne women notice. A healthy nature provides a cure for these ills of weakness in the way of a natural compound, made of roots and herbs, without the use of a particle of alcohol or any narcotic. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a womanly tonic that has sold more largely in the United States than any other compound prescribed only for the distress of women. Dr. E. V. Pierce, the world-famous specialist, is chief of the Medical and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N.Y. The womanly system is delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and proper oiling at the right time. This provides the delicate mechanism from being worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down, before their time, through ignorance of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused brain, aches, headaches, and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be soiled. Up to the source of the trouble and correct the irregularity. The drugs on the womanly system and the other symptoms disappear. This can be done easily and intelligently. One of the remarkable features about such a condition is that so few women connect it with the common name—womanly disorder. They try all kinds of remedies for their nerves. They take "slewing powders" and headache powders and all sorts of drugs which at the best can only numb the nerves and stupefy the brain for a time. The real need of nervous, sleepless women is a cure of womanly diseases. Then with quieted nerves, natural, refreshing sleep will come again.

The correctness of this advice is amply proven by the experience of many thousands of women—a large number of whom have written of their experiences. So sure of it is the World's Dispensary Medical Association, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of Leucorrhea, Weakness, Prostration, or Falling of the Womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of this means of cure. Their financial responsibility is well known to the people of the United States. This wonderful remedy therefore stands absolutely alone as the only one pointed out of such remarkable curative properties as would warrant such a marvelous offer as is above made in the utmost good faith. It is a medicine which has stood the test of a third of a century, and numbers its cures by the thousands. It is a perfectly safe tonic in any condition of the system, being entirely vegetable.

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, for all correspondence is held as strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

I have had ample cause to be grateful to you for your wonderful medicine. I writes Mrs. Hattie Tannell, of 1123 Zanes St., Louisville, Ky. "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has saved many a woman's life, and eased and cured thousands of women, who, before taking his medicine, dragged wearily through life. Thanks to your remedy I am today strong and well. Have had ten children, seven boys and three girls, and my share of life's burden. I feel the hot and cold flashes, extreme lassitude and nervous prostration to that period. After using your 'Favorite Prescription' these symptoms disappeared and it carried me through the critical period safely and well. I heartily commend Dr. Pierce's medicine to all who build up the general health and surely it will be a blessing to all who use it." One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make-up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor's book for instance, "The People's Common Sense Medical Advice," published by Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., for paper-bound volume or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

GREAT CITIES OF THE WORLD.

Etternal Paris Pre-eminent Among the Sisterhood.

New York may in time also become a great world city. If it does there will be two for eternal Paris to continue. But even now New York, in being the greatest city of the Americans, has achieved enough glory for a city whose site was the camping ground of savages when Paris was hoary with age.

Berlin is a great German city, but it is nothing more. It is the tongue and the hand of Germany—hardly its brain and heart—but its influence is not great beyond the German empire. It is in all things German, and a little provincial in being only North German—staid, rather dull, not so beautiful as it is substantial, not so cultured as it is rich, still bound by tradition, dreaming of art, more of utility than of beauty. It is ambitious, very well content with itself and progressive after its own fashion.

Vienna is typically Austrian, which is to say South German. It does not even typify the various races whose capital it is. It is the fit seat of a feudal empire that has endured after the close of the epoch to which it belonged. It is held in lines of caste, which are gilded by gentility and culture, but which are none the less potent to limit its progress and stifle its advancement. It enjoys itself in pleasing manners of gaiety that have come down from an older age; it is finished, accomplished, refined and it is decaying and giving way in the world, according to the inevitable law, to more progressive rivals. It has not the adaptability nor the philosophy of Paris; it contains more Catholic than Rome, more conservative than Britain, more feudal than remotest Silesia. It does not change as the world and the times change, and its chief interest is that it remains as a living embodiment of a civilization that in other lands has died. It is a greater sister to Toledo and Venice, but it is in no sense a great world city. And so, after viewing the cities, it might be said that he who does not dwell in Paris is a village dweller.—Atlantic Monthly.

RICHARD'S VICTORY.

Two brothers, aged nine and ten, respectively, pupils in a public school of Washington, were recently absent for a period of two weeks. When the elder of the boys returned to his class he brought a note from his father stating that the cause of the absence of his children was illness. "Where's your brother Dick?" asked the teacher. "Is he still sick?" "Yes, ma'am," replied the pupil. "He's still in bed with a broken arm." "I'm sorry to hear it. How did it happen?"

"Well, it was this way, ma'am. You see, Dick and I were trying to see which could lean out of the second-story window the furthest, and Dick won."

VALUE OF GOOD HABITS.

It used to be an accepted theory that the business world has nothing to do with the private life of business people. As long as a man attended honestly to his business occupation, was true to his obligations and paid his debts, that was considered sufficient. It is no longer considered sufficient. The business world, before it will accord to any man the highest rate of credit, must be shown that the man is not only faithful and reliable, but is not addicted to habits and occupations which may impair his standing. The Wall Street Journal recently went so far as to declare that the business world has a right to know of any business man "not only when he spends his days, but where he spends his nights. It has a right not only to know his financial standing, but also his status in the scale of social decency. The man who is faithful to the duties of his office and false to the standards of domestic decency must have his financial credit marked down and the business confidence of his fellow-men lowered to the class of extraneous risks."—Baltimore Sun.

ONE ON DAN O'CONNELL.

An amusing incident is told of a victory over Daniel O'Connell by a witness whom he was cross-examining. The witness was for the crown, and the case was a riot committed by a crowd of beggars. O'Connell was at that time well known, and it was after he had received his sobriquet of "the big beggar man."

The witness finished, and O'Connell began the cross-examination. "Now tell the court just how many beggars there were," he said.

"Indeed, I do not set at to count them, but there was a great tribe of them, your honor."

"A whole tribe of them, eh? Will you tell us how many tribes they belonged to?"

"Indeed, your honor, that is more than I can do, for I never heard, but I think it must have been to the tribe of Dan."

"You may go down, sir," said O'Connell in a rage, amid the laughter of the court.—The Sunday Magazine.

ACCURATE COUNTERFEIT.

The genial Mark Twain complains that he has the most surprising number of "doubles." Only the other day a gentleman wrote to him from Florida, saying that he had been taken so often for Mr. Clemens that he thought it a matter of duty to send his photograph to the real original.

The likeness, as shown by the picture, was certainly remarkable—so much so, indeed, that Mark set down and wrote the following reply: "My Dear Sir: I thank you very much for your letter and the photograph. In my opinion, you are certainly more like me than any other of my doubles. In fact, I am sure that if you stood before me in a mirrorless frame, I could shave by you."

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Increasing cloudiness and warmer Tuesday.

King Oscar has passed another good day and there is continued improvement in his condition.

L. E. Hicks, a Kentuckian, who was buried in a cave at Bakersfield, Col., Dec. 7, was rescued the night of Dec. 22. He was discovered alive Dec. 10 and a pipe was sunk through tons of debris through which he was fed while the tunnel was being cleared. Hicks was unhurt, though his five companions were killed.

The Cadiz Record, a paper owned in part by the Attorney General of the State, is the only paper we have so far seen to criticize the steps taken in Hopkinsville to prevent mob rule within twenty miles of its own town. The Record says, this discordant note in the fight for law and order:

"The Hopkinsville papers could much better serve their people if they would try to expose the recent violations of the law by the Standard Oil Company in that city, than they are in using all kinds of phrases and terms in reference to the recent disaster at Princeton and blowing about 'what they will do if a similar attempt should be made in Hopkinsville, which is calculated to keep this bitter feeling alive rather than quell the disturbance. There is nothing in all this fuss they are making except 'hot air,' and if there was any desire upon the part of anyone to go into Hopkinsville, it would be done just as easy as it was in Princeton."

The Madisonville Journal gives utterance to this remarkable editorial expression:

"The planter in the 'Black Patch' may not have a very extended or elevated mind; his imagination may not be the most lively, nor the most poetical, but he possesses a very solid, very logical, very common sense mind. He knows right from wrong; he knows he has been wronged, and he is going to have justice and right, if—if well, if the dynamite and parlor matches hold out, and there are lots of dynamite and matches."

This statement is a libel on the people it attempts to speak for. No 'planter' or other good citizen who possesses 'common sense,' and knows 'right from wrong,' will endorse the commission of such crimes as the destruction of other people's property, as suggested by the Journal. No wonder we are breeding anarchists in Western Kentucky, when the papers read by the people hold to such editorial opinions.

SHOT IN THE BOWELS

One Negro Shoots Another South of City Sunday.

CLAIMS 'T WAS ACCIDENTAL

One in Jail and Other Thought to be Mortally Wounded.

Jack Tandy was shot and perhaps fatally wounded by Harvey Davis Sunday. The parties are negroes and live about six or seven miles south of the city. Tandy was shot in the bowels and it is not thought that he can recover. From the best information obtainable it appears that Tandy and Davis had gone to a cabin on the farm of Mr. E. C. Cayce to visit some of their friends. The men appeared to be the best of friends just a few minutes before the shooting occurred. Shortly after their arrival on the porch of the cabin a scuffle ensued and a shot was heard. Parties who heard the report of the pistol went to the cabin and found Tandy lying on the porch. Davis left the premises immediately, but was later arrested by Deputy Sheriff Cravens and brought here and placed in jail.

The prisoner claims that the shooting was accidental and says that he and Tandy got into a friendly scuffle, when the latter, who had his hand around his (Davis') waist, pressed his revolver, causing it to fire. The examining trial has not yet been set, and the date will probably not be fixed until the result of Tandy's wound is known.

SLOWER SPEED BASIS.

Southern Railroad Will Revise their Schedules.

Following is copy of telegram which Mr. T. C. Powell, fifth vice president of the Southern Railway, has just received from Mr. W. J. Finley, president of this company:

"Owing to the crowded condition of some of its single track lines, and the double track work, including the revision of the grades and alignment now under way, for the purpose of relieving the crowded condition of the crowded single tracks, the Southern Railway Company finds it difficult to maintain the schedules of some of its passenger trains as now scheduled, and will, in consequence, in the early part of January, ensuing, revise these schedules, putting them on the basis of slower speed with the expectation of being able to maintain them, and believing that under the circumstances this arrangement will be more satisfactory to the public.

The double track work is being vigorously pushed and on other parts of the road where double track work is not now under way, but where traffic is heavy, passing tracks are being put in, those already in extended, to facilitate the moving of trains such passing track work being done with the ultimate object of utilizing it as double track when double track work may be undertaken in those localities.

The improvement in passenger train movement will naturally improve the movement of freight trains.

The Southern Railway Company has arranged to shorten its operating divisions, increasing the number from fourteen to twenty-seven, each one of these divisions to be in charge of a superintendent. Men now in the service will be promoted to the additional positions thus created.

ated. This arrangement, it is believed, will result in increased efficiency and will, it is further believed, promote the mutual interests of the public and the company.

In the arrangements referred to the company is developing and making effective the plan initiated by its late President.

PLANTING TREES FOR TIRES.

Railroads Providing for Day When Forests Are Gone.

The most perishable of the factors that enter into a railroad's maintenance of way" accounts, the ties, are in modern practice reckoned for farthest ahead. The Atchafalaya is the latest road to adopt the plan of growing its own ties, which means that about 20 years from now the construction department will be cutting its own lumber, provided, of course, that in the intervening generation ties of steel or sleepers of stone or concrete after the English fashion have not come into general use.

Dispatches from the west announced that the Atchafalaya had paid $100,000 for a ranch in California containing 8,668 acres on which to grow eucalyptus trees to supply the road with ties. It takes the tree, which is a relatively rapid grower, about 20 years to arrive at a diameter large enough for the purpose and each tree will then furnish from six to eight ties. In order to give the road a continuous supply about 450 acres will be planted each year and in the end of 20 years, when the first plantation is ready for the ax, the planting will begin all over again.

The railroads of the middle west began the planting of the eucalyptus groves some years ago and there are now in Kansas several such plantations of a fair growth, though none has yet reached an age sufficient for cutting. If the present rate of consumption, which has been estimated at 50,000,000 ties a year, continues they will all be needed.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

With a schedule that makes the official list of contents of other eastern schools look like a mere list, the famous Indian coach of the Carleton college has been looking down to the last of mastering the intricacies of the game.

The success of the Carleton football eleven about exploded this idea. Year in and year out, no matter who is coach, the Indian school is thought to turn a star eleven that takes all the big fellows, and plays the hardest kind of a schedule without whimpering, no matter how seriously injured may be.

It shows the generalship of the Indian to say that Carleton has never been without a good quarterback. In 1905, Johnson and Monte Pleasant had had three of the greatest quarterbacks that ever donned armor. Hudson was a wonderful drop kicker, who was a good player of passing two or three goals a game, and against the strongest opponents just as reliable as against the weak.

Johnson, who succeeded Hudson, was a fine leader, and could catch a football with more certainty than any man in the field. He could take the pigskin on a toss, much as a ball player catches the sphere, and at running with the ball, kicking or tackling, no one was his equal during his stay at Carleton.

The present star, Monte Pleasant, though he may fall a trifle behind his two great predecessors now, is destined to catch up with them before he leaves the school.

But it is not only in turning out the alert flyers of the football field that the Indian school has made a notable record. Under the Sam's wand have produced the heavy artillery, too.

Harley Pie, the giant guard, was unexcelled at his position, and proved himself more than a match for the big fellows of Yale and Harvard. Pierce was also a good kicker, and fast enough to play in the back field had he been needed there.

John Middlewick, a mammoth Indian, who weighs some 300 pounds, and stands six feet high, has lately been thriving for the sore of the retired champion pugilist, James J. Jeffries. He has not yet been thoroughly tested, and no one takes seriously his pretensions that he could best the better maker or any other good man. But to have an Indian in the ring is an event.

No reason exists why the Indian should not be a great athlete. Generations of life in the open air argue for him an athletic vigor. Many tales and legends survive showing how in the bygone days the Indian was capable of prolonged athletic tests, particularly in the way of running. The reindeer is a natural endurance runner, and when willing, is tireless.

Harley Davidson, who is now the undisputed roller skating champion of the world, has been racing and giving exhibitions on the rollers and ice skates since 1882. He was one of the first to take up the roller skating game as a profession when that craze swept the country many years ago. After it died out he devoted to the steel blades. With the return of the roller game he now devotes most of his time in racing in the wooden-floored rinks, although he by no means is a back number on the ice.

John Flanagan, the world's champion hammer thrower, practised daily for years before he reached his present state of proficiency in weight tossing. The Irish-American athlete not only went out in the fields, with hammer in hand, but stayed awake nights considering and studying the theories of the game.

Peculiar English Celebration. Colchester derives so much pecuniary benefit and celebrity through its famous fishery that the mayor and corporation have been appointed guardians of the industry. Once a year, at the opening of the oyster season, the fisherman sail to the fishing ground, and the mayor formally assists in raising the first dredge of blivies. Afterward, in fulfillment of an ancient custom, there is a luncheon, at which the distinctive luxury is gingerbread, washed down with raw gin, a combination, which, it is reasonable to assume, is the great secret in many of the several days—London Telegram.

HOG CHOLERA

The Problem of a Cure is Now Solved.

The much dreaded disease, hog cholera, has lost its terror to those who are posted on modern methods of treating the disease. It is now a curable disease. Any practical farmer who will follow the instructions given by the manufacturers of treating the disease, will save almost every hog able to take the treatment and restore the herd to thrift in a few days time.

The Snoddy Remedy, manufactured by The Dr. J. H. Snoddy Remedy Co., Inc., who will furnish any farmer or hog raiser one of Snoddy's books on hog cholera, free of charge, who will call at their store for it. Full directions for curing hog cholera is fully explained in this little booklet. Every farmer should have one. They are free, and it is full so they will understand how to keep the cholera out of this country. The remedy is also on sale by E. W. Stegar & Dickson, down at Masonville, who will also furnish the farmer a copy of Snoddy's book on hog cholera, who will call there for it.

This remedy is the greatest worm remedy and thrift producer for hogs there is on the market. The extra gain they will make from its effect will return the farmer an average of $5 in this extra gain for every dollar's worth of the medicine he uses properly and right. Hence the remedy is not an expense to a farmer, but it is a profitable investment, and one that pays a greater profit than anything else on the farm the same amount of money can be invested into.

The remedy is certain in its action when properly used. It is impossible for a cholera germ or worm of any kind to live in a hog while that hog is under the influence of this remedy. The remedy will destroy every worm or germ of this kind and the hog will grow in a short while and be as thrifty as he ever was.

There are many imitations of this remedy being put on the market. Let everyone be careful that they do not buy an imitation of the goods. The public will know the genuine Snoddy Remedy by its having Dr. Snoddy's picture on every label, and a medicine for hog cholera is offered.

For further particulars call on the Planters Hardware Co., Incorporated, Hopkinsville, or E. W. Stegar & Dickson, at Masonville, Ky. The remedy is manufactured by Dr. J. H. Snoddy Remedy Co., Alton, Ill.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

Tried to Force the Back Doors of Waller & Rogers Store.

USED A BIG CROW BAR.

Also Tried Their Hand On
J. O. Cook's Back Door.

Foot-pads and burglars began their work last week. Saturday night an unsuccessful effort was made to force an entrance to the undertaking establishment of Waller & Rogers, on Ninth street, adjoining the drug store of James O. Cook.

Waller & Rogers have rented the storeroom for next year and had the thieves been successful in getting in they could not have gotten anything but coffins and cases, as the firm only began moving Saturday. It is not presumed that anyone would steal his own coffin, though we have heard of several instances where men have made their own coffins, prior to being taken down before dissolution.

Failing to force the door, after raising and trying to get in through a window which they had raised, they next tried to get in at the back door of Cook's drug store. The thieves left the marks of a crow-bar on the doors of both store rooms. The rear windows of both store rooms are protected by heavy bars, or else they would have had easy work in getting inside and would have had no trouble in carrying off as much of the stock of Mr. Cook as they might have been inclined to appropriate. There is no possibility of detecting the persons who attempted to burglarize the two stores.

He said he would be there by 8 o'clock and she said this was too late. He then promised to get out to the house by 6:45 p. m. Winfrey then got his horse and buggy and went out.

The young fellow Morris who works at Mrs. Schaeffer's is the only one who testified before the grand jury that he heard Clark scream: "I am shot in the back" while the fusillade was going on out in the front yard of the Schaeffer home between Clark and Winfrey.

Winfrey was not before the grand jury and rests his case on his plea of self defense, contending that he did everything possible to get out of Clark's way and prevent being killed before he resorted to his gun and fired the fatal shots. He says he carried the revolver for protection in the woods, and took it inside the Schaeffer home in order to keep some one from stealing it from the buggy if he had left it outside.

BOLD HOLD-UP FRIDAY NIGHT.

Two Negroes Rob a White
Man Who Displayed
Roll of Money.

SNATCHED AND RAN.

One Held Him From Behind and Other Went Through Him.

Dot Youngs was held up by two negroes and robbed of $55 Friday evening about eight o'clock, on North Main street near the corner of First. He had displayed a roll of money at a business house on Sixth street while two negroes were standing close by, and after showing it to a friend put the roll in his vest pocket. Soon afterwards he went out Main street, and after going several squares two negroes overtook him. One grabbed him from behind, holding his arms tightly while the other stepped in front and snatched the wad of money from his vest pocket. He was given a rough shove into the gutter and the men ran. Youngs ran after them for some distance when they turned down a side street and eluded him. He reported his loss to the police, saying the roll contained $55 in bills. One of the negroes who saw the money on Sixth street was known by him. He says both is his assailants were strangers to him. One was tall and yellow, with a black overcoat and a hat creased in the top. The other, who held him, was low and heavy-set.

Mr. Youngs operates a shooting gallery on Sixth street.

CHILD'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Screamed with Pain—Suffering Nearly Broke Parent's Heart—Twelve Years of Misery—Doctor Called Case Incurable—Helped From First, and

SPEEDILY CURED BY
CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but what the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get worse, and at night it would be worse. When I think of his suffering, it nearly breaks my heart. His screams could be heard down stairs. The suffering of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, nor could I sleep."

"One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give a trial. I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold; and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. (Signed) Michael Steinman, 7 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1925."

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh Scott's Emulsion should be taken immediately. There is nothing that will repair wasted tissue more quickly or replace lost flesh more abundantly than Scott's Emulsion. It nourishes and builds up the body when ordinary foods absolutely fail.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

BIG CROWDS.

Thronged the Streets Yesterday All Day Long.

Main street was filled yesterday with a moving, hustling throng of people who failed to come in and make their Christmas purchases last week. All the stores were crowded, the extra force of clerks employed being unable to wait on customers as promptly as they desired. Everybody seemed to have plenty of money and small purchasers were loaded down before going home. At night, though somewhat diminished, the crowds continued buying and all our merchants did one of the largest businesses in the history of the city.

He will start West soon after January 1."

When everything seems up a stump, And fortune is "agin" you, Don't pine. Spruce up—show the world You've got the timber in you.

Andrew Carnegie, Rockefeller, the Vanderbilts and Russell Sage saved a part of their income and put it away in the bank. When the time came for them to make investments they had something saved up. Money rules the world. Without money you are without friends. Open an account to-day.
